GOLF PACKAGERS

Are you thinking about planning a golf trip to Myrtle Beach? If your answer is yes, then you are about to discover the best golf packaging companies in this unique golf destination.

Are you an experienced veteran of multiple trips with buddies or family members to the Grand Strand? If so, you too are going to pick up valuable knowledge or perhaps a new tip or two on booking your next trip.

The Myrtle Beach golf scene is very fortunate to have the largest and most qualified golf packaging service available to its customer base. What other major golf destination has so many unique package options, and who better to share that expertise than Myrtle Beach's wide array of golf directors. Let's be honest, this colorful cast of characters includes some long-term residents of the area who have seen it all over the years. And yes, there are some packagers who are really good golfers and have played every course in the area multiple times (quite a feat when you consider there are over 75 courses in town). You will also find golf travel planners with whom you could easily spend an hour with on the phone, just talking about golf, sports or family. The best part about the variety of golf packager options, is that there is a perfect match out there for everyone (just like my Momma

Working continuously with the same trip planner will allow for greater comparability of previous trips. If you find a great course that everyone in your party thoroughly enjoyed, then your package provider can then find some similar features at another exciting new set of venues. Conversely, if you would prefer a new clean Regardless of the path that you have arrived from, turn the next few pages and step into a wealth of information brought to you by a team that has represented Myrtle Beach golf for the last 39 years. We have focused on providing you information on the very best this area has to offer, with information on packaging companies, golf packages, tournaments, and golf instruction. If you turn to the last page and have not yet found some new or interesting fact, close the book and try again, it's here somewhere.

5 Reasons To Book A Golf Package

1. Get The Best Package For You

The sheer number of golf courses in Myrtle Beach makes choosing your golf lineup a daunting task. Let an experienced golf packager provide you with options that are going to get your mass text or email chain going with your friends. This gives you more time to devote to trip logistics and gaining trip commitments, as well as more “good natured banter.”

This gives you more time to devote to trip logistics and gaining trip commitments, as well as more “good natured banter.”

2. Maximize Your Budget-How Much Do I Want To Spend?

While this seems like an obvious question, anyone in a sales (or poker) background will tell you not to show your hand until you are called upon.

However, this is actually the most important information you can share with your travel provider. With the number of courses in Myrtle Beach, multiplied by the number of possible golf lineups-yes, some boundaries need to be set. If you can inform your golf packager what the maximum budget per person is at the beginning of your quotation process, this will speed everything up for you. This will also enable your provider to put together the best options that will fall into your price range.

3. Don't Herd Cats

In any other arena, getting a bunch of guys together for a sporting occasion is usually a very simple task. For some reason or another, when it comes to a golf trip-that previously stated concept can be tossed out the window. Whether it is spouse-related or work-related, getting your crew to commit to a golf trip is tough business. With the help of a golf packager, his or her guidance can allow you to relax and enjoy the buildup to the trip.

4. Get It Your Way.

Dye or no Dye? Bunkers or water? Bent grass or Bermuda? There are hundreds of different preferences when it comes to this fine game of golf. With 75 courses, the Myrtle Beach golf trip can wear a lot of faces. Let someone who knows the courses first-hand help to customize your trip, so that your preferences can be met. For the record, I vote yes on Dye.

5. Local Knowledge

What's the weather like today? That's the one question your golf packager probably hears the most. But isn't it nice to hear the answer from a person on the ground, as opposed to an app on your phone? More importantly, a golf director gets the latest scoop on all the news in the area. Good course conditions, fast greens, and new course promotions are all items that you wouldn't find through a Google search. Let's not forget to mention-a good restaurant, sports bar to watch a game, or a nightclub-this advice comes for free as part of a package deal.

Shipping Your Clubs to Myrtle Beach

The desperate stare as the last few bags come sliding out of the baggage area's revolving carousel. I know by golf bag is going to be the next bag to appear. We have all been there at some point in our lives, and that sinking feeling has set in before. My golf bag did not make it, put a fork in me. All of the pre-trip bets and back and forth with my buddies, without my clubs-I don't stand a chance.

Thankfully in these new advanced days and time, there is a solution now to this problem. Shipping your golf clubs to Myrtle Beach is now a very easy and viable option. While we are still waiting for Amazon to get into the golf club shipping business, there is a very simple (and affordable) option for you to consider for your next trip.

Ship Sticks

The folks at Ship Sticks began their company in 2011 out of West Palm Beach Florida. The concept began simply enough, and through growth and use of advanced technology, the business has grown to produce a revenue of over 3.9 million dollars. So this is not a small start-up company, they are experts and produce an efficient service to their customers.

The Process:

1. Schedule Your Shipment: The Ship Sticks website (www.shipsticks.com) is very simple and well organized. Just register for a new account (if you are a first time user) or login if you are a repeat customer. You specify your
2. Print And Attach Your Bar-Coded Labels: Once you complete the online paperwork, you will be directed to a confirmation page, from which you can print your all of your labels. You would have the ability to print them again at any point from your confirmation email you will receive. Just attach your outbound label, and keep the return label for later use.
3. Pack Your Bag: This one really is probably the most difficult part, at least in my case. Would definitely recommend a golf travel bag, preferably one with a hard exterior.
4. Clubs Get Picked Up: On the assigned the date your clubs will be picked up and will begin their trip ahead of you. If you have opted to drop off the clubs yourself, the website provides locations to all the available locations for drop off in your area.
5. Tracking Your Clubs: Ship Sticks allows you to track the location and progress of your shipment, just follow the link from your emailed confirmation, and you will find all status reports.
6. Clubs Have Arrived: You can relax when the confirmation email hits your inbox, notifying you that your clubs have arrived safely at their destination.
7. Coming Home: You would simply repeat the same process as mentioned above with your return labels and can send them home from your last course.

By Designer

Every golfer has a couple of course architects they tend to prefer. For me, my favorite designers always seem to go hand in hand with my lower rounds in my playing career. Maybe this is a coincidence, but probably not. Here is the a list of every course designer that has designed a track in the Myrtle Beach area. Venture a guess to see if you know who has the most courses in the area. Or maybe find out who was the creative genius behind your favorite Myrtle Beach course.

Clubhouse Chatter:

Tips From The Staff

FROM THE HEAD PRO:

“Please show up early for your tee time. Groups that show up early always get the best treatment from the staff. Also, this added flexibility helps in more ways than one. If a large group is on the books, show up early and maybe we can sneak you out in front of them, it always helps.”

FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT:

“Best advice I can give, is please pay attention to the cart signs with regards to how far you can drive the carts up the fairway. I know a lot of your courses back home allow you drive right up to the greens, but we kindly ask that you follow the markers set up by our staff. And please, if it is wet and cart path only, please abide by that guideline so that others after you can also enjoy the course.”

FROM THE SNACK BAR:

“If you are nearing the turn for the round and are craving a cheeseburger, or any other item that requires a bit of cooking time, just give us a call and we can prepare your order in advance. This way you can take it with you, and not be limited to items that you might normally have to choose from on the turn.”

FROM THE BAG DROP:

“Any group pairings sheet is gold in our line of work. If you have this prepared ahead of time, please share it with us. This will get everyone loaded quicker, and allow a bit more time to browse the pro shop, or hit a couple of extra shots on the range, or putting green.

FROM THE HOTEL OR CONDO STAFF:

“If you can provide a roommate list for your group, this is a great help to all involved. If group members arrive at different times, or even different days, having a rooming list eliminates any confusion on both sides. Figuring out who snores, and who doesn't want to room with Bob.....that is the tough part.”

FROM THE GOLF PACKAGE DIRECTOR:

“Organization is definitely the key if you are bringing a group of more than 4 golfers. Establish deadline dates with your group members. Let everyone know when commitments need to be made, as well as when payments have to be completed by. This will lead to less headache for you the group planner, and will help us get you finalized.”

“The more information you can share with us when we are coming up with quotes, the better tailored your package will end up. If you like wide open fairways, let us know and we can include courses that fit that criteria. If you like packages that include free lunch, we can match those for you.”

“Lastly, the role of group leader or planner for a golf trip is a very underappreciated role. You probably never receive half of the thanks from the group for all the work that goes into making the trip a reality. Your golf packager is there to assist you with the process, and anything that comes up during the process, can be handled. Try to enjoy the process, and realize that at the end of the trip, those smiles are your friends' faces are a result of a great trip planner.”

UNDERSTANDING COURSE RULES AND POLICIES

You learn something new about golf every time you play. We have compiled a list of some of the golf terms and policies common in the Myrtle Beach area, and wanted to share these with you.

DOUBLE TEE:

This is a very common tee sheet model employed by a large number of courses in Myrtle Beach. If you have asked for a 10:30 AM tee time in April, you may have had this policy explained to you already. A double tee is a tee off procedure where the golf course sends groups off holes #1 and #10 simultaneously. So for example, at 8:00 AM a group will tee off hole #1 and also hole #10. This procedure is used to maximize the number of tee times for the most requested time frame (7:30-9:30 AM). Group will tee off for generally around a two and a half hour time frame. So when that time frame ends (let's say 9:30 AM is the last morning tee time), then the course has to close new tee offs until all of the morning groups have made the turn. They will then resume the afternoon tee times in the same manner. Some courses have recently eliminated use of this model, which allows them to offer mid-morning tee times, and courses with 27 holes may have also late morning tee times as well.

RAINCHECK:

If Mother Nature decides to throw some rain at you, don't fret. If you have a round that is rained out, the course will issue you a raincheck. This raincheck can be used for a future round, please put it in a zip lock bag and keep it somewhere safe. This raincheck can be put to good use for your next trip, and will lower your costs.

REPLAYS:

You just shot your best score ever, your pulse is rapid, and you are hungry to play more than the 18 holes you just finished. All the courses in the Myrtle Beach area, offer discounted rates to go back out in the afternoon and play 9 or 18 more "replay" holes. You don't have to get in your car, and most of the time you can keep your clubs right in the same golf cart. If you are interested in replaying at a course, we recommend speaking to the pro shop staff prior to your AM round, and they will be able to provide you with a price, as well as time of availability. Some courses and packages include free or discounted replays which can be booked in advance as part of your package. Other properties which have multiple courses on the same property, will have discounted rates to play one of its other courses in the afternoon as well.

BAG DROP:

When you enter a course property in the Myrtle Beach area, you will see signs directing you to the bag drop area. This is the unloading area for vehicles to pull up to, and where the bag drop attendant will unload your clubs prior to putting them on a cart. It is important to use this area, so that the outside course staff can keep your group's bags together, put drivers and riders together, and keep the tee times on their scheduled mark. Remember to take good care of your bag drop guys; they can be a valuable asset to you with regards to course tips or nightlife recommendations.

AERIFICATION:

The word aeration stimulates negative emotions for many golfers. Aeration is an essential program to keep playing surfaces healthy and in good condition. Aeration primarily is performed to control organic matter – i.e., decaying roots and grass stems – relieve soil compaction, stimulate root growth and improve drainage. If organic matter becomes too thick, it acts like a sponge and holds water at the surface after rain or irrigation. Excessive organic matter also inhibits root growth, reduces oxygen levels in the soil, encourages disease and eventually can lead to turf failure. Furthermore, excessive organic matter creates soft surfaces prone to ball marks, foot printing and inconsistent playing conditions. Aeration and topdressing are the most effective ways to control organic matter and maintain smooth, firm putting surfaces.

In Myrtle Beach, check with your packager if you are planning a trip in late May or June or early July. Most courses will aerify at that time of year, but your packager will be able to advise you to the status of each course. Some courses will also plan a small tyne (small holes) aerification in late August or early September.

OVERSEEDING:

Bermuda grass is king in Myrtle Beach. Overseeding is done when a golf course's main grass (Bermuda) in the fairways, tee boxes, and greens is about to go into its dormant stage. When Bermuda goes dormant, it turns to a brown color. The actual overseeding process involves putting out seeds of rye grass (which is tolerant to colder weather) onto the course. The seeds must be watered in order to germinate and grow, which may result in cart path restrictions at the golf courses.

When the temperature begins to hit the lows 60's (usually in October), that is the time to overseed. Bermuda grass stops growing in its dormant stage, and therefore will not heal if damaged. Golf cart limitations will be put in place for an extended period of time when overseeding is in practice. This is for more than one reason. First, the dormant Bermuda grass cannot heal if damaged, and second, the course will be wet from all of the water that is required for the overseed to take.

Some courses in Myrtle Beach will overseed the entire course whereas others will overseed only fairways and tee boxes. Bent grass greens do not need to be overseeded as they are a cool season grass. Some courses elect not to overseed the rough as it gives the course some nice definition. Again, check with your golf packager, who can provide detailed information on the courses.

ON THE GREEN

GOLF

Myrtle Beach is known as the Golf Capital of the World.

Hole #11 at Caledonia Golf and Fish Club

Part of the reason for that is the fact that there are so many golf courses located in a 60-mile stretch of coastline known as the Grand Strand. You can play a different course every day for three months and still have new courses to look forward to. Another reason for that label is that here you can find some of the highest quality golf courses in the country.

Golf Digest recently named several of the beach's courses to the "Top 100 Public Courses in America" list. Thirty-six of the area's courses hold a rank of four and a half stars or higher. Throw in nationally-known golf schools, top-quality practice facilities, restaurants and nightlife and it's obvious why we're the Golf Capital of the World!

FOUNDERS GROUP INTERNATIONAL

YOUR AMBASSADOR TO THE GRAND STRAND GOLF EXPERIENCE

It's a contemporary approach in the Myrtle Beach golf scene – but one that blends its top courses with a consumer appeal that has been decades in the making. It embodies what you've come to like most about golfing the Grand Strand over the years, and takes it to a whole new level.

And it's offered by Founders Group International - the proud owner and operator of 22 of Myrtle Beach's most requested designs.

FGI made its initial splash in 2014 with its acquisition of eight renowned courses – including TPC Myrtle Beach, host of the 2000 Senior Tour Championship, and the Grand Strand's only design rated 5 stars in Golf Digest's "Places to Play"; and World Tour Golf Links, 2004 recipient of "Course of the Year" honors by the National Golf Course Owners Association, and a visiting golfer's paradise that pays homage to many of the world's most renowned golf holes and venues.

TPC Myrtle Beach and World Tour were joined by Aberdeen Country Club, Burning Ridge Golf Club, Colonial Charters Golf Club, Founders Club at Pawleys Island, Indian Wells Golf Club and River Hills Golf & Country Club.

Willbrook Plantation

But as quickly as FGI emerged with these eight designs, its “game-changing” moment came in 2015 when it reached agreement with National Golf Management to acquire the Myrtle Beach golf industry’s most established group of courses, loyalty programs and reservation services. They operated for years under the popular “Prime Times Signature Courses” brand, and are now rolled in FGI’s emerging Founders Collection portfolio that includes:

- King’s North – the most renowned of three Arnold Palmer designs at Myrtle Beach National Golf Club that also includes West Course and South-Creek, and all of which have been a staple of the Grand Strand golf scene for more than four decades

- Pine Lakes Country Club – “The Granddaddy,” Myrtle Beach’s first-ever golf club founded in 1927 by the legendary Robert White, the first president of the PGA of America

- Grande Dunes Resort Club – Honored in 2001 as “Course of the Year” by the National Golf Course Owners Association, and most recently a co-host of the 2014 PGA Professional National Championship.

These five stalwarts came with nine additional designs formerly owned or operated by National Golf Management, including Litchfield Country Club, Long Bay Club, Myrtlewood Golf Club’s Palmetto and PineHills courses, Pawleys Plantation Golf & Country Club, River Club, Tradition Club, Wild Wing Plantation and Willbrook Plantation.

Altogether, the Founders Collection spotlights signature designs from the likes of industry legends Jack Nicklaus (Long Bay, Pawleys Plantation), Arnold Palmer (Myrtle Beach National) and Tom Fazio (TPC Myrtle Beach) ... 14 recipients of four or more stars in Golf Digest’s “Places to Play” ... and local, statewide and national “Golf Course of the Year” accolades among many of its courses.

And the Founders Collection is just the starting point in FGI’s ability to offer the visiting golfer easy, unparalleled access to the best rates for more than 70 golf courses throughout the Grand Strand. Whether you’re seeking a last-minute tee time or planning a multi-round golf getaway for your group, FGI’s resources include a phone reservation center, Tee Time Central, that’s open 7 days a week – along with popular Web sites at MBN.com and MyrtleBeach-GolfTrips.com that give you easy, 24/7 access online.

WORLD AMATEUR HANDICAP CHAMPIONSHIP

Virginian Curtis Henley Wins 34th Myrtle Beach World Amateur Handicap Championship

2017 World Am winner Curtis Henley of Poquoson, Va. (left) accepts the championship trophy from World Am Tournament Director Scott Tomasello.

Curtis Henley of Poquoson, Va. shot a gross 82, good for a net 66, to win the World Championship Playoff at the 34th Annual Myrtle Beach World Amateur Handicap Championship Friday at Barefoot Resort's Dye Club.

Henley edged James Dupont of Meadville, Pa. and Charlotte's Jim Acord, who each shot net 67s. Hilton Head's Wes Long fired a sizzling 68 to win the Gross Division and finish five rounds with a cumulative, gross score of 1-under par.

Making his first appearance in the event, Carl Myers of Dallas, Texas won the Senior Gross Division in a sudden death playoff against Kim Mansfield of High Point, N.C. Myers won on the first sudden death playoff hole with a par.

Virginians Ted Hartung and Thomas "Duke" Wagner won the International Pairs competition and, along with it, a trip to St. Andrews, Scotland to represent the United States in the IP World Championship in 2018.

A 72-hole, net stroke play tournament, the World Am was played on more than 50 of Myrtle Beach's best golf courses.

Players from 49 states and 20 countries competed in the event, which was open to all men and women 18 years of age and older, and players were flighted based on age, gender and handicap.

Each flight played a different course every day and after four rounds of competition, all flight winners and ties advanced to the World Championship Playoff at the Dye Club. The playoff was an 18-hole shootout to crown the event's winner.

While the competition is initially what lures players to the tournament, it's only part of what keeps them coming back. At the heart of the World Am's appeal is the camaraderie among its participants, and much of that kinship is fostered at "The World's Largest 19th Hole."

Each night of the event, the 19th Hole overtook all 120,000 square feet of the Myrtle Beach Convention Center, providing participants with free food and drinks, live entertainment, celebrity guest appearances, a golf expo and more.

Among the big names that appeared at the 19th Hole this year were Golf Channel personalities Charlie Rymer, Damon Hack and Chantel McCabe, billiards legend Ewa Laurance and Paige Spiranac, one of the game's fastest-rising personalities.

Players also received a gift bag that included a logoed hat, shirt, PGA Tour Superstore gift card, Nexbelt, and an assortment of other goodies.

The 35th annual Myrtle Beach World Amateur Handicap Championship will be played August 27 - August 31, 2018.
